Brain Against Brawn

Why do some farmers prosper and enjoy many luxuries, while others, who work just as hard, are always hard up? The answer is simpler: one has used his brains and kept posted on up-to-date farming methods, while the other has felt that there is nothing for him to learn. He will not even read a first-class farm paper because he thinks no one can possibly tell him how to run his farm. FARM AND RANCH is prepared especially for farmers, gardeners, live stock and poultry raisers and fruit growers of the Southwest—the home builders. It has been the Southwestern farmer's right hand man for more than a third of a century.

Double Value This Year

This Year Holland's Magazine is just as large and much more interesting than ever before and the publishers are entering all subscriptions TWO FULL YEARS for the same price you formerly would have paid for a one year subscription. The short stories and special articles are clean, snappy and timely. The departments for the house-keeper are many and complete; the fashion pages show the late styles, and the children have a corner of their own. Holland's is truly a Southwestern Home Magazine of sunshine and good cheer which, in ten years time, has become indispensable to more than three quarters of a million people in the Southwest.

Send us your order for these three publications—our paper one year, Farm and Ranch one year and Holland's Magazine TWO YEARS—right away; also show this BIG VALUE OFFER to your neighbor who is not a subscriber to this paper. ENGLAND'S GREAT MUNITIONS PLANTS

Pen Picture of Plants Where England is Making Her Instruments of Death.

[By Associated Press.] Birmingham, Nov. 29.—By the courtesy of the Minister of Munitions, Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, a representative of the Associated Press has today visited some of the largest munition establishments in this area, one of the eleven into which the country is divided.

Here, for example, is a factory where cartridges were made in peace times. It is not remarkable that in war times it is doubled in size, in operation day, night and Sundays, with 7,000 employees. That seems the natural result of war.

But to see an enormous plant, covering 20 acres, that a year ago were bare fields, with one building having a floor space of four acres, with 6,000 employees, turning out the most delicate time fuses with regiments of men at work as if they had been at it for years—this is grasp an idea of what England is doing and to realize why a cabinet post was created for the supervision of such undertakings, of which this gigantic establishment with its acres of delicate machinery is but one of thousands.

The cartridge factory is turning out seven million cartridges a week. "We should be doing much more," said the manager, "if we could but get the machinery and the skilled labor that we know is coming."

The fuse output in the gigantic plant of mushroom growth was not stated, but the manager told the same story of the coming machines and the coming skilled labor. The machinery, partly made in England, also has names of makers in New Britain, Conn., Providence, R. I., Windsor, Conn., Brazil, Ind., Waynesboro, Penn., Cleveland, O., and other American cities.

"We have skilled labor here from Denmark, Holland, Canada, even South America, and more are on the way," explained the manager—another happy effect of controlling the seas.

"Are many of these women wives of soldiers?"

"Hundreds, perhaps thousands. One advance of the British on the western front produced 14 widows in one department. You see they work with a will."

The acres of roofs are denoted with British flags, with here and there a French and Belgian one. The refugees from the territory across the channel that Germany has invaded need not be idle.

Indeed, nobody need be idle in Birmingham, perhaps in all England, if he or she is able to work. The Birmingham papers are full of advertisements calling for men, women and children to work in munition factories, and even the jeweler advertises: "Now that work and money are plenty, buy, etc."

It is as if England were planning to carry on war for years and years. Some of all this output is for Russia and other allies.

What will these new plants be making a year or two years or three years from now when the war is over?

"That's not our problem," added the staff captain. "Our job is to get munitions with which to kill Germans." And if one in 50 of the shells in the Birmingham area could reach its mark, the war would be over.

HOBBY IN AUSTIN AT FERGUSON'S JOB

Executive Left for Chicago and After Meeting There, Will Go to Washington to See Wilson.

[By Associated Press.]

Austin, Texas, Nov. 29.—Lieutenant Governor W. P. Hobby, who will preside over the governor's office during the absence of Governor Ferguson from the State, arrived in Austin from his home at Beaumont Sunday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Hobby.

Governor Ferguson left at midnight last night in the private car of W. A. Webb, operating head of the Katy, for Chicago. He was expected to cross the Texas-Oklahoma line between 10 and 11 o'clock this morning, when Lieutenant Governor Hobby took charge of the governor's office.

Governor Ferguson and Lieutenant Governor Hobby had a lengthy conference in the executive office Sunday morning, going over business which is to be left in the hands of the acting governor.

Governor Ferguson probably will be out of the State three weeks, going from Chicago to Washington for a conference with President Wilson on several matters, the most paramount being that of the Mexican situation. After that he will visit New York and possibly other points.

CHAMPION POTATOES.

Up to the present time Mr. M. S. Freeman of this city is the champion potato grower of the county and the Eagle doubts if his record will be broken when all returns are in. He planted a small patch in the eastern limits of the city—only a garden patch—and from it harvested 41 bushels. An acre at the same ratio would have produced from 250 to 300 bushels. Mr. Freeman has our thanks for four of his finest and they were so large the four made nearly a half bushel. Not only that, but they were just as good as they were large.
